EASTER SUNDAY OF THE RESURRECTION OF THE LORD

"Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth." COLOSSIANS 3:2

Do you put God first in all things? Possessions, money, power, ego can easily become gods to many of us. Do a quick check of what is important to you. Is God at the very top of the list? If not, your priorities need to be re-adjusted. Don't let earthly things become a god before God. This is also the first commandment – I am the Lord your God, you shall not have any strange gods before me.

FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

A book called Father Arseny: Priest, Prisoner, Spiritual Father, tells the story of a Russian priest sent to a Siberian work camp during the rule of the Soviet Union's Joseph Stalin. Here's an excerpt from the book published by St. Vladimir's Seminary Press:

"The weather outside was ferocious. Many prisoners froze to death and many new prisoners arrived to work in their stead. It was a difficult time for everybody, but the "political" prisoners had it worst of all. For two days in a row their rations were stolen by the prisoners who were criminals. That night, after roll call and the locking of the barracks, a large fight erupted between the two factions over these rations. Ausenkov took the leadership of the "politicals." The criminals were headed by "Ivan the Brown." He was a hardened criminal, a good-for-nothing and a murderer many times over. In camp he had also killed more than once; he liked card games in which the one who lost paid with his life. The battle that evening was over the rations the criminals had taken laughingly - they said they were used to taking things that did not belong to them. The camp administrators, for reason of personal safety, were always on the side of criminals.

The fight started with fists, and then logs, then knives appeared in the hands of the criminals. Knives were, of course, forbidden. The guards searched for them but never seemed to find them. One of the prisoners, a soldier, was cut up; several "politicals" had their heads cracked. The criminals knew how to work together; most of the "politicals" could only shout and were afraid to help their own. The criminals were cruel. They were winning over the "politicals" and blood was flowing. Fr. Arseny ran to Sazikov and begged him, "Help! Please help, Ivan! They are cutting people up. There is blood everywhere. I ask you in the name of God to stop this. The criminals listen to you." Sazikov only laughed and said, "Sure they will listen to me, but why don't you help with your God? Ivan the Brown has already killed two of your friends, and now he is going to kill Ausenkov. Your God seems not to notice this!"

Fr. Arseny looked all around him. He saw blood on people, he heard screams, swearing, and moans, and his soul was full of pain for their suffering. He lifted his arms, went into the midst of the heated fight, and said in a clear and loud voice, "In the name of God, I order you! Stop this!" He blessed them with the sign of the cross and said in a whisper, "Now help the wounded," and he headed for this bunk. There he stood, as if in a different world, as if surrounded by light. He stood there, having receded into himself, praying. He did not hear the dead being carried to the door, nor did he see the wounded being helped. He stood, his attention focused on prayer. All was quiet in the barracks now. You could only hear men getting into their bunks and the moaning of a seriously injured man.

Sazikov came near Fr. Arseny and said, "Forgive me, Father. I doubted your God. I see now God exists. It even scares me. A great power is given to one who believes in Him. Even I am frightened. Forgive me for making fun of you." In two days, Ausenkov came to Fr. Arseny after work and said, "Thank you. You saved my life. You believe in God unconditionally and, looking at you, I'm also beginning to understand that God exists."

Scared. Frightened. Those two words could be ascribed to the criminal foes of sin and death. Jesus Christ descended into Hell and shouted to the Evil there, "In the name of God, I order you! Stop this!" Quiet must have come to that diabolical region. Whatever enjoyment sin and death had at the expense of believers is gone. Whatever victory sin and death thought they had achieved is vanquished. There's quiet now. There's defeat. Jesus Christ has conquered, we rejoice. Jesus Christ has prevailed. We sing Alleluia.

I'm so happy that so many of you are joining us on this Easter Day. What a wonderful day of joy and hope. God is good to us. Know that I pray that God's goodness envelopes you every day. May the Risen Christ touch your heart deeply and inspire you to follow him closely, all the way to Heaven.

Happy Easter.

MARTHA'S FUNERAL LUNCH MINISTRY

Did you know QAS has a funeral lunch ministry? After a Funeral Mass or Memorial Mass at QAS, volunteers can provide the funeral luncheon in the Church Hall for family and friends.

While we are blessed to provide this service to grieving families, we are in need of additional volunteers. There are currently 94 parishioners on the list but more are needed.

Please consider helping with this beautiful ministry. Are you able to bake a cake? Prepare a hot vegetable casserole? Pick up some bread or sliced cheese? Maybe you have the gift of hospitality? Are you available to help serve the luncheons?

On average you would be called four to five times a year to help. Food is dropped off in the Church Hall the morning of the luncheon, as early as 7:30AM. It's convenient to drop off on the way to work or taking kids to school.

When a family is overwhelmed with grief, decisions and turmoil, we, as a parish family, can help with this one task and show our love and support by providing the funeral luncheon.

For more information, or to sign up, contact Jeannine Sinak at 314-565-6085.
