STEWARDSHIP
11TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“As you go, make this proclamation: ‘The kingdom of heaven is at hand.’” MATTHEW 10:7

Many of us take our lives for granted. We think we have plenty of time to “repent.” Maybe we should live with a little more urgency in making things right with God. This is the difference in living our discipleship out of obligation versus out of love. Obligation implies we do the minimum required. Love implies we want a relationship. God wants us to be with Him in Heaven forever, but He also wants to be in relationship with us right now, while we are on earth. Start this second – invite the Lord into your heart.

FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

Author Phyllis Theroux writes about her father: "If there was any one thing that my father did for me when I was growing up it was to give me the promise that ahead of me was dry land - a bright, marshless territory, without chuckholes or traps, where one day I would walk easily and as befitting my talents.

"Thus it was, when my dad came upon me one afternoon sobbing out my unsuccesses into a wet pillow, that he sat down on the bed and assured me that my grief was only a temporary setback. Oh, very temporary! Why he couldn't think of any other little girl who was so talented, so predestined to succeed in every department as I was. 'And don't forget,' he added with a smile, 'that we can trace our ancestry right back to Pepin the Stupid!'

"By the time he had finished talking I really did understand that someday I would live among rational beings, and walk with kind, unvindictive people who, by virtue of their maturity and mine, would take no pleasure in cruelty and would welcome my presence among them. There are some people who carry the flint that lights other people's torches. They get them all excited about the 'can-do' potential of one's own being. That was my father's gift to me."

Many of us likewise had fathers who encouraged us and placed within us a "can-do" attitude. Some, like my father, may not have set us down for a heart-to-heart conversation during which sagacious advice poured forth. Rather, it was the example set and the love given, working hard to provide for his family and attentive to our needs. How proud my father was (and, of course, mother, too) as he watched his children achieve many wonderful things. He was God's gift to us.

Jesus is the same way. In today's Gospel he sees a need for laborers to work the harvest. Whom will he select? Who can do this sort of work? No one has ever been asked to do this before. And then the gaze of Jesus lands on twelve men. They are chosen. They are called. They are sent.

So are we. Like Phyllis Theroux above, we have discovered that the territory around DOES sometimes have marshes, chuckholes and traps. Walking in such territory is not always easy. But Jesus believes in us. Jesus trusts us. He would not have summoned us if that were not so. Jesus passes on to us a "can-do" attitude.

The work of harvesting is not easy and we know we need divine help. There's a story about Charlie, who sat by the hospital bed of his young son, just out from major surgery. Dreadful thoughts kept creeping into his mind. Why had he not called the doctor sooner? Why had he not suspected that his son's troubles were more than a stomach ache? Why? Why?

The youngster stirred now, opened his eyes and saw his father sitting there. The boy stretched out his small, fevered hand to his dad and said, "Hold my hand, Daddy, I hurt so bad."

Charlie took his son's hand; his son smiled weakly and drifted back to sleep. Then Charlie, taking a cue from his son, bowed his head, closed his eyes and whispered, "Hold my hand, Father, I hurt."

God our Father will indeed protect us as we go forth, sent by Jesus to labor for the Kingdom of Heaven. We do so with confidence, with a "can-do" attitude.

Certainly we saw that attitude last weekend at our Parish Picnic. Jeff and Kate Barcom, the picnic chairs, and a whole lot of people did a superb job in presenting to all our visitors a venue full of good food, good music, and friendly people, among other things. Our visiting missionary, Fr. Gary Weismann, was only here for about 27 hours, yet he couldn't stop talking about the wonderful spirit he witnessed at Queen of All Saints. You know he's right, too, last week's picnic proved it. Thanks, then, to all who worked and to all who supported, and to all who attended. Great job!

Happy Father's Day.

God bless you.

Fr. Hambrough

Journey to Nicaea: The Evolution of Christianity from Gospel to Creed

Presenter: Mark Etling, PhD

Saturdays: July 1st, August 5th and September 2nd
10:00 am - Noon

The first four centuries of the Christian era saw an incredible evolution – from a tiny movement in Israel to a vast, thriving institution in much of the Roman Empire. In its earliest days the Christian movement was a disorganized network of communities with no Bible, no central authority, and no unified system of beliefs. But by the year 400 the Church had adopted a universal statement of faith – the Nicene Creed. In this three-part series we will explore Christianity's historical and theological journey from Jerusalem to Nicaea.
