STEWARDSHIP
FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

"I give you a new commandment: love one another. As I have loved you, so you also should love one another." (John 13:34)

"As I have loved you," this is the hard part - Jesus's love is unconditional; our love usually comes with strings attached. It is easy to love someone when they love you back. But it takes mercy and compassion to love someone when you feel unappreciated, feel used or feel like your opinion doesn't matter. It takes courage and the grace of God to "love thy neighbor" when they may be someone you don't like, someone you don't know or someone that doesn't look like you.

FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

You've probably heard a tale similar to this before. A young girl who was responsible for taking care of chickens peeked into the nests to see if the new chicks had arrived.

One day she saw many downy, yellow chicks huddled under a mother hen, but there were two eggs not yet fully hatched. She could see the little bodies pulsing and struggling for freedom through the tiny holes pecked out of the shells. Impulsively she decided to help, and took one of the eggs, gently pulled it open and peeled away the shell to free the chick.

The next moment is frozen in her mind. As she finished the job, the baby chick gasped, struggled, and stopped breathing. Sensing something dreadful, she ran for her mother.

Her mother's experienced eyes immediately read the story. She could have scolded or punished the girl, but she chose to teach her. The mother's caring words explained that each chick has to struggle to free itself, through its own struggles, it becomes strong enough to live outside the shell.

Understanding the little girl's good intention and lack of knowledge, she said, "there are some things in life that other people just cannot do for you; you have to do them for yourself."

Now older and a mother herself, the former little girl with good intentions often recalls that event. "Many times as I have longed to fix things for other persons," she says, "I remember that they just might have to do this for themselves, and I must allow them to struggle."

I remember when I was still a laymen attending Sunday Mass in which a Baptism occurred. The infant was quiet and very good during the first part of the ritual, but when the water hit her head and the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit were invoked, she started screaming. No amount of comfort, passing between, mother, father, or godparents could stop her. Not bottles, burps, or pacifiers. She just screamed. I always remember the lady in the pew in front of me turning to her friend and saying, "maybe she's crying for she knows how tough this life (Christianity) can be."

Paul and Barnabas in today's first reading exhorted the new Christians to persevere in the faith and told them, "It is necessary for us to undergo many hardships to enter the Kingdom of God." Wow, tough words-necessary, many hardships. What's particularly jarring for someone like me is that immediately following this exhortation Paul and Barnabas appointed elders in each church. That's me. Elders are priests. Now I remember when I entered the seminary being told that I would have to study much, that a lot of homework was coming my way. I also recall many priests encouraging me to seek ordination, assuring me that the priesthood is a wonderful life. (It is.) But I can't remember anyone saying it would be necessary to undergo many hardships. If I had, maybe I would have cried like that newly-baptized baby. Maybe not. Either way, I would have persevered.

In my opinion many Catholics are enduring hardships now because we value the sacredness and dignity of every human life, born and unborn. In recent days Catholic churches have been vandalized and pro-abortion protesters have disrupted Masses, outside and inside of churches. Our Church's long history of defending the unborn, while simultaneously helping women with difficult pregnancies, really angers many people. I find it very sad that so many will do anything to stop the beating hearts of the unborn. I find it terrible that the child in the womb doesn't count, has no protection from those who want to destroy it, and has an existence that relies on a whim, not a law. The words of St. Teresa of Kolkata ring true, "Any country that accepts abortion is not teaching its people to love but to use violence to get what it wants."

These days, these are the hardships we endure. Pray that we stay strong. Pray for the pro-abortion people. May the Holy Spirit enlighten them.

May God bless all of you.

In Christ,
Fr. Hambrough

QUEEN OF ALL SAINTS SCHOOL BOARD ELECTIONS

The following individuals are being considered for the open positions on the Queen of All Saints School Board for the 2022-2023 school year. Please read the following bios of two candidates who are running for our open positions. School Board terms are three years in length. School Board Elections will be held the weekend of May 21st - 22nd after every Mass.

JACQUELYN NOLAN

My name is Jacquelyn Nolan and I have been a small business owner in the community for several years. I own and operate multiple insurance agencies throughout St. Louis and have a strong background in the catholic faith. My two children attend Queen of All Saints, therefore, I have a vested interest in the progress and development of our church and school. My higher education degree from the University of Missouri-St. Louis was in secondary education. This gave me a new perspective on schools and how they operate as well as first hand experience on issues that can arise. In my free time, I enjoy spending time with my family and friends. I also enjoy coaching soccer for Queen of All Saints, and watching the girls improve year after year! I hope to be able to use my resources and skills to help guide our school and develop our strategic goals for the future.

AMY CHKAUTOVICH

My name is Amy Chkautovich, mother to Maxson (3rd), Avery (Kindergarten), and Ryker (Pre-K-4). My husband, Stephen, and I have been members of Queen of All Saints for 3 years after moving back to Oakville in 2019.

I have a Bachelor's Degree in Social Work, and I am currently taking classes to obtain my Master's Degree in School Counseling.

I have more than 10 years experience working in education. I sat on the School Board at TreeHouse Preschool at St. Paul's for eight of those years as the financial manager.

While at TreeHouse, I was responsible for the school's accounting and financial management. I also ensured operations aligned with the annual budget. I assisted in employment decisions and implementing the employee handbook.

It is my desire to work in collaboration with the school leaders of QAS to uphold and oversee the school's mission, achieve academic excellence, and maintain operational vitality.

BABY BOTTLE DRIVE

Last weekend empty baby bottles were distributed by the Respect Life Committee. You are encouraged to keep the bottle in a prominent place in our home as a reminder to pray for the unborn.

On Father's Day weekend, bring your bottle back with a donation to LifeLine Coalition. All money collected will be given to pregnancy care centers that provide concrete assistance to women facing untimely pregnancies.

Thank you for praying for the most vulnerable in our society.

KENRICK-GLENNON DAYS

Kenrick-Glennon Seminary is hosting Kenrick-Glennon Days (KGD) summer camp again this summer. During this camp, your sons can experience team-building activities, different aspects of the Catholic Faith, competitions in Catholic Jeopardy and the famous Water Olympics battle—and that just scratches the surface! Your sons will also attend Mass, experience various forms of prayer and sacramental life that speaks to the richness of our Catholic Faith!

Each camp is for three days and two nights. Camp One (June 13-15) is for young men who next year will be considered 6th and 7th graders. Camp Two (June 16-18) is for young men who next year will be considered 8th and 9th graders. Also, if you have a high school aged son who will be sophomore or older, he can fill out an application to stay all week to help run the camp and get service hours for doing so. If you are wondering what happens at camp, check out this promo video from a few years ago: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xMu_iK1I2yo

You may register at: Stlvocations.org/kgd

For those boys from Queen of All Saints who go to camp, Queen of All Saints will cover the cost of registration.
